

How a Texas Christian University Biology Instructor Uses YuJa Video Broadcasting to Teach Nursing Students

Texas Christian University (TCU) is a private university located in Fort Worth, Texas. With a student body of approximately 9,725 students – including 8,456 undergraduates and 1,269 graduate students - it is ranked by U.S. News and World Report as a Tier 1 University. TCU boasts 118 undergraduate majors, 56 graduate-level master's programs, and 21 doctoral programs.

“Students love the YuJa video broadcasts! I go over the material in lecture but being able to listen and watch the video broadcasts until it clicks for them is great.”

Stephanie Wallace,
Instructor at Texas Christian University

Within the Department of Biology, instructor Stephanie Wallace uses YuJa's video broadcasting solution to provide supplemental resources for her students outside of class. Stephanie teaches primarily undergraduate and pre-professional students, including nursing, kinesiology and nutrition students enrolled in her Anatomy and Physiology course.

With classes sizes of 90-120 students, she needed a solution that enabled her to offer in-depth training and insights on the physiological processes including the respiratory system, digestive system and urinary system. She found that these complex systems can be difficult for students to grasp while in class and equally difficult to recap over email. "Often during class and office hours I find valuable time is spent repeating answers to the same types of questions," said Stephanie.

A photograph of the Texas Christian University campus, featuring a large brick building with a sign that reads 'TEXAS CHRISTIAN UNIVERSITY FOUNDED 1873'. In the background, there are several flagpoles with flags, including the Texas state flag and the American flag. The image is overlaid with a semi-transparent white banner containing text.

"Students can watch the video broadcasts at home and that way it reduces office hour and email traffic to my inbox"

Stephanie Wallace,
Instructor at Texas Christian University

With YuJa's video broadcasting and podcasting solution, Stephanie is able to flip her classroom with video content that students are able to use to recap lecture material. "Students love the YuJa video broadcasts! I go over the material in lecture but being able to listen and watch the video broadcasts until it clicks for them is great."